THINK DIM-OUT AREA MAY EXTEND TO TULLYTOWN BORO. BUT NOTHING DEFINITE HAS BEEN DECIDED

Lighting Engineers, Selected by Army, Have Not As Yet Completed Their Survey — Regulations Not Likely to Be As Stringent As Those In New York — Final Decision Awaited with Interest

According to recounting of U. S. Army heads, made to the State Council of Defense at Harrisburg for the establishment of a dim-out condition in an area of 25 miles from City Hall, Philadelphia, a Bristol Courier survey shows some interesting conclusions, none of which however are official.

Definite regulations and decisions on the proposed dim-out area and the exact determination of the area to be circumscribed will be made only after the report of lighting engineers, selected by the Army, has been considered.

Final recommendations as to the territory to be included will then be forwarded to the Civilian Defense Authorities for enforcement. It is believed that an announcement of the final decision will be made in ten days.

The proposed area, as surveyed by the Courier, would appear to include in the dim-out section: All of Bristol Borough, Tullytown, and the following communities adjacent to the dim-out border line: Newtown, Wrightstown, Forrest Grove, that part of Doylestown Borough approximately west of the junction of Green Street and Peble Hill Road, New Britain, Chalfont, Furlong, and Wycombe.

Presumably outside the area are the following communities: Morrisville, Yardley, New Hope, Buckingham, Pottsville, and Hilltown.

"All of this is simply an opinion and final decision is awaited with interest as to which communities will be in and out of the dim-out area," an official of the civilian defense set-up in Harrisburg said this morning.

It was also learned officially that the regulations as to lights in the dim-out area now proposed (25 miles from City Hall) will not be as stringent as the regulations, for instance, in New York City. At the present time at least, no regulations are under contemplation for a change in automobile headlights in the proposed new area.

The Courier also was advised that no plans have as yet been made for defense plants to dim-out within the newly proposed area.

"GHOST" HOUSES

SEATTLE, Wash. — (INS) — War workers in the Pacific Northwest may soon live in houses brought from "ghost towns" if the suggestions of the International Woodworkers of America are followed. Woodworkers' union officials requested that county commissioners obtain the structures from deserted lumber and mining camps and place them on county tax title land for rent at low cost.

Perfecting by William Stader, A Resident of Perkaskie Borough

PRIORITIES FOR SAME

PERKASKIE, Nov. 24—A Perkaskie man, a former councilman, has put into production here a mechanical splint, which it is believed by the promoters will completely revolutionize the method of treating broken bones.

William Stader, for over 17 years the foreman in the movement department of the U. S. Gauge Co. plant, at Sellersville, has placed it in production.

Navy surgeons were so favorably impressed with the Stader product that it has awarded contracts for the entire production of the plant and is encouraging Mr. Stader to increase production.

Mr. Stader, with his brother-in-law, has been working on the device several years and early this year resigned as foreman at the gauge plant to devote his entire time to its improvement.

It has been thoroughly investigated and tried in actual fractures by the Navy Department.

After it had been thoroughly tried and used in actual treatment of fractures by the Navy Department and proved satisfactory in every detail, Mr. Stader rented the factory building at Ninth and Market streets, where 12

WAR BOND PURCHASES

Brief Speeches Made By Workers in Bucks Co. Campaign

Two "Minute Man" flags, and three "10 Per Cent Emblems" are being presented in Bristol today, the recipients being five industrial firms or business houses.

The "Minute Man" flags were awarded to Marty Green Stores and Hancock-Hickey Company, these being in recognition for having at least 90 per cent of those on the payroll participating in a payroll deduction plan for purchase of U. S. war savings stamps and bonds. The "10 Per Cent Emblems" were awarded to the following firms which previously received "Minute Man" flags: Samuel Jackson Sons, Railway Specialties, and Warner J. Steel. These emblems are a reward for having at least 10 per cent of the payroll funds invested in war stamps.

Harold VanKirk, general chairman of Bucks County war bond campaign, served as master of ceremonies at the programs this morning, and will do so at those held this afternoon. He introduced in each instance Gene Kelly, representing the U. S. Treasury Department. C. V. Wilson Lavery made the presentations. Also in the group visiting the plants were: J. E. Bloesinger, industrial chairman of Bucks County payroll savings campaign; W. B. Bright, and Benjamin Park.

Employees of the Marty Green stores are participating in the payroll deduction plan for purchase of bonds to the extent of over 20 per cent of the total payroll of the stores at Mt. Ban Enlistments, "Essential" Defense Plant Employees

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24—(INS)—The Army and Navy today banned voluntary enlistments by "essential employees" in the aircraft and shipbuilding industries to end a manpower loss that threatened to cripple war production.

Enlistments also were halted by essential employees within the industries who have resigned within 60 days prior to their application for enlistment.

Selective service officials said, however, that the action is not a blanket deferment of workers in the two industries, who will continue to be drafted for military service as they are needed and can be replaced in essential jobs.

SECOND WINTER

It seems impossible that a whole year has passed since the Allied world first prayed for winter to descend on the Russian front. But the second winter is inexorably drawing closer to the northern armies.

Relief that cold weather will afford is not so urgent as it was in 1941, although time is still the commodity that the Allies seek to save.
The magnificent performance of the Russian armies is no longer a miracle. It is now taken for granted that the Russians can and will keep on fighting. In spite of his plea for a second front in the immediate future, there is little doubt that Stalin is confident of holding the Germans
as long as they continue to attack.

Both Stalin and Hitler agree on the one important point—the Russian war will continue through this winter. The German people have been told that victory will not come this fall. They have been told that Germans will eat this winter, but at the expense of all the conquered nations. They have been told that they must endure the British air raids until the Russian war is over because the greater part of the Nazi air force is too busy in the East to meet the British attack.

This second winter, now approaching, must wear a hideous face for the stolid Germans. Promises of adequate food will not reassure people who have already felt the sharp pinch of want. Promises of victory
"next spring" must ring hollowly in their ears.

Time, still so precious to the Allied nations, is more precious still to the German armies and the German people. As the second winter rolls around they must realize that the time for decisive victory has slipped past them. Due to the Russian defense, time has been saved for the Allies, lost to the Germans.

AIR SUPERIORITY

Conclusion of the House of Representatives military sub-committee on aviation that United States Army planes are more than a match for any of the planes pitted against them is most reassuring to a nation that has been given some feeling of doubt owing to conflicting reports. There have been assertions, not well based,
that some types of America's planes
were taking a beating.

The comparative scores of planes downed have not borne out these reports and now the House committee, after a detailed study, has arrived at a favorable conclusion. United States planes are leaders of the world in battle efficiency.

The implications of that fact are plain. America is turning out high quality planes in heavy production.
They are flowing to the Southwest Pacific, the Japanese would have overrun the Solomons and New Guinea
and would be assailing Australia.

If American planes in quantity had not been rushed to the Middle East, Rommel might have broken through Egypt to the Suez Canal and beyond, putting the Allies in a desperate position.

Due to America's great production of excellent planes, the Allies are able to retain the positions they must hold until they get their vast armies in position for the offensive.
Every American can rest easier in the knowledge that his country is definitely ahead in the rivalry for mastery of the air.

These Biscuits Are "Honies"

By Frances Lee Barton

NOT one grain of your precious sugar supply is required for a batch of hot honey biscuits.
Those who crave
biscuits often or insist upon serving them to guests will appreciate the following carefully
tested recipe:

Honey Biscuits
2 cups sifted cake flour; 2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder; 1/2 teaspoon salt; 5 tablespoons butter or other shortening;
1/2 cup milk.

4 tablespoons butter; 1/2 cup
honey.
Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift again.
Cut in shortening. Add milk all at once and stir carefully until all flour is dampened. Then stir vigorously until mixture forms a soft dough and follows spoon around bowl. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead 30 seconds.
Roll 1/2 inch thick and cut with floured 2 1/2 inch biscuit cutter.
Bake on ungreased baking sheet in hot oven (450° F.) 12 to 15 minutes.

Cream butter, add honey, and blend. Remove biscuits from oven;
split in halves. Spread with honey mixture. Put halves together and serve with remaining honey mixture. Makes 18 biscuits.

CRANBERRIES GIVE ZEST TO AND ALSO BRIGHTEN THE MENU

By Edna Stephany
(Home Economics Representative)

Fresh red cranberries add zest to autumn meals and color on your plate.
This year's crop is expected to be the third largest on record—and there is many a use for the berries. Have you tried, for instance, ice cream with cranberry sauce? Here's a recipe for cranberry sauce that takes sugar
rationing into account:

1 quart (1 pound) cranberries
1 1/2 cups water
2 cups sugar (or 1 cup sugar and
1 cup corn sirup or mild
honey)

Pick over the berries and discard all that are withered or specked. Bring the sugar and water to the boil, add

the berries and cook quickly for about 10 minutes, or until the skins break.
Chill before serving.

There are many uses for cranberry sauce, besides serving it with meat.
Try it on short-cake, in roly poly pudding, or as a sauce over any plain pudding or ice cream. And you can give flavorful zip to a bland pear or apple salad by placing a spoonful of cranberry sauce on the side.

The following recipes will provide a welcome variation.

Tropical Relish

4 cups cranberries
1 lemon
1 cup canned shredded pineapple
2 cups sugar (or 1 cup sugar and
1 cup corn sirup or maple sirup or 1/2 cup honey)

Put cranberries through food chopper. Quarter whole lemon, remove seeds and put through chopper. Add shredded pineapple or put sliced pineapple through food chopper to make 1

THANKSGIVING

★★★ for our American Way of Life ★★★

Today the entire nation is united in a gigantic production effort such as the world never before has known.

Yet much remains the same.
Though battles rage throughout a war-torn world, our shores remain untouched.

Thus we have much to be thankful for. The American Way of Life, though threatened, is still ours to enjoy. It shall be preserved.

We pause before Thee in humble gratitude, O God, for Thy mercies, known and unknown, which Thou hast bestowed upon us. We pray Thy continued blessings upon ourselves as individuals, and upon our Nation in this day of trial and stress. Give us guidance from on high that in all things we might do Thy will. ON THE SCREENS

GRAND THEATRE

One of the most diversified musicals to reach the screen in many months is "Panama Hattie," which opened at the Grand Theatre last night. Starring Red Skelton and Ann Sothern, the film is fast-moving with an excellent human story, an exhilarating comedy routine, elaborate production and tunes you'll whistle on your way out.

As Panama Hattie, a night club entertainer with a heart of gold, Miss Sothern has one of the finest roles of her career. In love with a soldier, Dan Dailey, Jr., the scenes in which she meets his daughter, Jackie Horner, and overcomes the child's dislike of her, are especially appealing.

If you have a house to rent, advertise it in The Courier. Classified Ads bring results.

BRISTOL THEATRE

What happens when a husband and wife get into the habit of telling "whiffles"—little white lies—to each other? Ray Milland and Betty Field, as stars of the uproariously funny comedy, "Are Husbands Necessary?" will answer that question when the picture opens today at the Bristol Theatre.

Any dancing in the streets today does not necessarily mean that some of our local citizenry have gone haywire, but it is probably official notice that "Underground Rustlers" is at the Bristol Theatre where it opens a two day engagement.

INCREASE PLAYER LIMIT FOR TEAMS FROM 10 TO 12

Towns Along Lincoln Highway Are Placed in League Bounds

ADOPT A NEW SYSTEM

Will Use The O'Shaughnessy System Playoff This Season

The player limit for the teams of the Bristol Basketball League was increased from ten to twelve last night at a meeting of the circuit held in the Diamond Store, Mill street. Thomas Juno, president, presided.

The boundary limit was also increased to include the towns along the Lincoln Highway with each team privileged to sign up two players from outside the boundary.

It was decided to play the season's schedule throughout without any halves and use the O'Shaughnessy system playoff. The winner of the regular season and the winner of the playoffs will receive trophies, if such are available.

The season will open next Monday night with three games being played on the Mutual Aid floor.

TARGETEERS WIN FIRST ARCHERY LEAGUE GAME

The Diamond Archery League opened last night when the Targeteers defeated the DiLorenzo All-Stars in two games and also won the total arrows score to make the standing 3 and 1.

The DiLorenzo team started off like a house afire and piled up a 24 points edge in the first game only to have this erased by the wonderful shooting of the Targeteers in the final game.

High man for a single game was Wilbur Adams who shot a 65 out of a possible 75.

ROAMING BALLOON

LONDON—(INS)—Easily most travelled barrage balloon of this or any other war is that which left its moorings over London and came down again in central Finland.

News of the errant plane-catcher is given in a Rome report from Helsinki received here today. The balloon was identified as having come from London by its markings.

Distance from London to the point where it landed—by crow's or balloon's flight—is over 1,200 miles!

SPORTS PARADE by EDWARD W. COCHRANE

The winner of the Georgia-Georgia Tech game in Athens, Ga., November 25th no doubt will get the invitation to play in the Rose Bowl if that game is allowed in Pasadena New Year's Day.

If the game is not allowed the winner of this classic of the Southland for 1912 will be one of the participants in the Sugar Bowl contest at New Orleans. That one is sure to be staged. The other participant in the Sugar Bowl may be Boston College or Tulsa, two of the top teams of the Nation this year. It is reasonable to suppose that Tulsa will not only go through the season undefeated and untied but also without being scored against. Such a record deserves some reward.

In picking your All-America candidates you cannot overlook Frankie Sinkwich, the Georgia streak, as a halfback. He can kick, pass and run and is the leading ground gainer of the nation. His work beat Alabama after Bama had a lead until the fourth quarter opened. Another good candidate for all-America honors is Stiff, the Pennsylvania fullback. But of course there are a hundred more about the country and only eleven can be chosen.

Kansas State Worst Team

After the football season closes Frank Leahy, famous coach of the Fighting Irish of Notre Dame, likely will return to the Mayo Clinic at Rochester, Minn., to remain for some time, hoping to be completely cured of spinal arthritis. The worst college football team in the nation this year, considering the class it usually plays in, is Kansas State. There will be a new coaching deal there next year.

All pre-flight football teams will be disbanded as soon as the season ends and the players will get busy learning to do some flying for Uncle Sam. Wolves are howling on the Northwestern University campus. They don't like the showing Lynn Waldorf has made with his Wildcats this year, considering the material. There are three freshmen in the country who would be all-Americans if they were not freshmen.

Government Will Dictate

When the Major Leagues meet in Chicago December 1st they will have had a definite commitment from Washington as to whether the government wants them to go through with their regular program for 1943. That means 154 games, training trips and no curtailments whatever. It is likely that Uncle Sam will ask them to make some changes in plans so that they will aid in the transportation problem. About the only way they can do that some 50 people out to California, and back, the transportation problem is not as serious as we have been led to believe or as it seems to be when one tries to make reservations on trains running to and from the Pacific Coast.

Must Employ Veterans

There will be more baseball news the coming winter than there has been for many years. So many players have gone into the armed forces or will go before time for another baseball season, that the magnates will have to stock up with minor league stars and you are going to hear of men coming back to big time who haven't been around the majors in some years. Some names that have almost been forgotten. With the draft age so low, the club owners cannot expect to fill up their rosters with youngsters. But there will be plenty of talent because of the number of minor leagues that will fold. The class of baseball under the big tent will not be as good as it has been until after the war and we return to normal times, but it will do under the conditions.

The best rookie in pro football is Bill Dudley of the Pittsburgh Steelers. His work shows what the addition of one star will do for a football team. He went so good that Coach Howie Odell brought seven more freshmen up to the varsity and now Yale is playing good football.

Many Golfers Won't Play

Mel Hein, who has played 12 years with the New York Giants, will retire from football after this year. He may be added to the Giants coaching staff. He has earned some sort of job.

Many professional golfers say they are not going to take part in winter tournaments, although a full schedule has been arranged for California, Texas and Florida. The reason they are not willing to compete is that they do not like the idea of having people see them carrying golf bags about playing in the sunshine when men of their ages are fighting in the Solomons. "It just doesn't look good," said one very prominent golfer. "I am ashamed to carry my clubs about where people can see and I am going into war work. I think a lot more will do the same thing and if they don't they will not let people see them playing for fat purses." Cheerio.

Mechanical Splint Is Now Under Production

employees are now producing the splints.

Among the advantages claimed for the mechanical splint is that the terminals of a broken bone are held in perfect alignment with the exact degree of pressure on the break at all times. The pressure is regulated with a micrometer-like adjustment. The device also entirely eliminates the use of the old plaster paris bandage cast and access to the entire surface of the broken limb during the healing process. Aluminum, stainless steel and rubber are the principal raw materials that go into the making of the splint, but Mr. Stader has a priority rating for his product.

American Forces Enlarge Holdings on Guadalcanal

Washington—Secretary of the Navy Knox today revealed that American forces on Guadalcanal are slowly enlarging their holdings on the island and are now in control of an area roughly 16 miles long and four miles wide.

The Secretary also stated at a press conference that "rigid" United States patrols are keeping the Japanese from landing reinforcements and reiterated that the American objective is to drive all the Nipponese off the strategic island.

Asked whether the Japanese are still sneaking in reinforcements under cover of darkness, Knox said—

"That is possible but very unlikely. There is a pretty rigid patrol working day and night."

One of Knox's aides explained that American planes from Guadalcanal could patrol an area extending at least 100 miles from the island and that the planes could spot ships long before they could get within landing distance during the night hours.

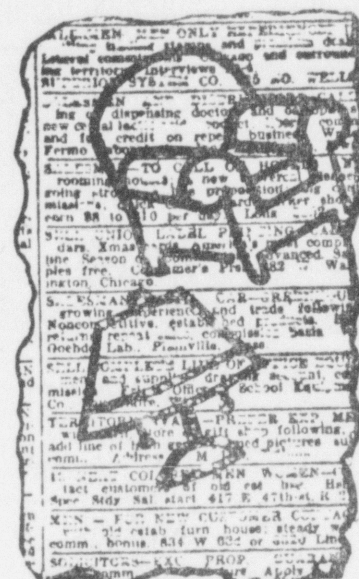

Knox was asked if the Americans now were conducting a drive to wipe the Japanese out of Guadalcanal.

"Our objective is to drive them out," Knox commented. He explained, however, that U. S. Forces still hold only about three per cent of the 80 mile long island.

Fifteen Nazi Planes Knocked Out

London—Fifteen Nazi fighter planes were knocked out of the air when they challenged American Flying Fortresses and bombers which heavily raided the enemy submarine base at St. Nazaire, France, an official communique said today. The U. S. bombers were accompanied by Royal Air Force fighter craft which carried out supporting diversionary sweeps. Four bombers were lost in the assault.
